

A gold star for St Anthony's

A HAMPSTEAD boys' prep school has been dubbed excellent by the Independent Schools Inspectorate.

Pupils' achievements at St Anthony's in Fitzjohn's Avenue were acclaimed after the inspection last term.

The boys' manners and moral code and interest in extra-curricular activities were also commended.

The teachers' good relationship with students was also noted and their work in guiding and supporting pupils praised.

New headteacher Paul Keyte said: "This is a great endorsement of the values of a special community and tradition, lovingly nurtured by my predecessors."

There were two recommendations that the school improve reporting pupils' progress to parents and increase staff ICT training. These issues are being addressed by the school.
